Bell is happy to introduce “My Future’s So Bright” week, October 14-18. All students will participate in personal and academic goals setting as well as fun dress up days. In addition, all students will be participating in activities around careers and post-secondary planning, known as their Individual Career and Academic Plan (ICAP). If your student has an Advanced Learning Plan (ALP) they will be documenting their ALP goals as well. Please encourage your student to participate in our following dress up days: 10/15 dress as your future profession, 10/17 wear yellow and sunglasses, 10/18 dress in college gear.

Attention 6th grade families! The first quarter is coming to an end on October 14th and with the start of Quarter 2, your student will start a new wheel course on October 15th. Please view this new course by logging into Parent Portal. Teachers will also be guiding students to view their new wheel course during the next couple of weeks.

Just a reminder that the Bell doors are open for students to come in at 7:15am, and school starts at 7:25am. We seem to have more students showing up late to school than normal. Please keep in mind that students continually coming in late may affect their grades, and is extremely disruptive to the classroom. Consequences will be imposed for excessive tardiness, so please help us get students to class in a timely manner. Thank you!

Here are this week’s Bobcats of the Week, as nominated by teachers and staff members will nominate 2 students weekly from each grade. Students are nominated based on consistent or exceptional R.O.A.R. (Respectful, Optimistic, Accountable, Responsible) behavior. The following students have been chosen for this week:

GRADE 6

- Allie Collins for being Optimistic
- Brooklyn Mitchell for being Optimistic

GRADE 7

- Sage Hummon for being Optimistic
- Daniel Watkins for being Accountable

GRADE 8

- Channing Bruce for being Respectful
- Leo Polizzi for being Optimistic

CONGRATULATIONS Bobcats! Keep up the good work!
